On the Journey

On Monday evening of this week a large number of parents accepted the invitation of the College to attend a presentation focused upon the healthy development of teenage boys in the areas of relationships and sexuality. David Kobler was an engaging speaker and in addition to the research which he shared with his audience he also included some very practical advice for the parents in attendance. On the following day he also spoke to the boys in Years 9 to 12 and his message was again well received. As a 30 year old father of two, David certainly had a perspective on his topic which was absorbing, challenging and occasionally confronting for the parents and students he addressed.

At CBC Fremantle we often use the metaphor of a 'journey' to describe the process being undertaken in partnership by the home and the school to foster the development of good young men. It is essential that this journey is punctuated by significant moments and events which provide the opportunity to reflect upon our practice and re-affirm our commitment as parents and educators. Congratulations to those parents who seized one such opportunity this week.

A particularly pleasing aspect of the presentation was how the advice resonated so strongly with the current practices of the College. The importance of action being informed by clear, commonly understood values was regularly emphasised during the talk. At CBC Fremantle our values are explicit, immutable and often counter-cultural. All parents will remember a discussion and acceptance of these at the time of enrolment and we are extremely appreciative of all those who honour this commitment.

Jazz at Clancy's

The CBC Jazz Orchestra staged a wonderful performance at Clancy's in Fremantle last Saturday afternoon. All in attendance were treated to a broad repertoire which included some excellent musicianship. The concert also featured the vocal talents of our own Anthony Iannantuoni and Stella D'Oliveira, a Year 10 student at Iona.

Together, they add another dimension to the work of the band.

Congratulations to Mr Shane Mancuso and the members of the Music Parents' Group on the presentation of a very successful event. Of course, a special commendation is due to each of the musicians who shared their special gifts with the audience. Well done to all of the boys and we look forward to their future performances.

Jazz Orchestra at Clancy's

Last Saturday, the CBC Jazz Orchestra performed at Clancy's Fish Pub in Fremantle to a wonderful and enthusiastic mix of parents, friends, staff and Old Boys.

The afternoon provided a chance for our Year 11 and 12 students to let off some steam after their exams and get together to catch up and get to back to playing their instruments after a hectic fortnight.

The performance featured Stella De Oliveira, a Yar 10 vocalist from Iona Presentation College. Having Stella perform allowed the band to showcase many new and varied styles of music.

Congratulations to Anthony Iannantuoni who made his singing debut. Anthony performs in our saxophone section and with the College Choir, and it was fantastic to have him out front singing with Stella and providing great backing vocals.

I would like to thank everyone who came along and supported the boys, especially Mr Kenny, Mr Burgio and Mrs Lawlor.

Thank you to Clancy's for providing us with the opportunity to perform. Clancy's is a supporter of the Perth live music scene and we appreciate its contribution to the local community.

Lastly, thank you to the Music Parents' Group who organised a raffle fundraiser. There were a wonderful mix of prizes and some happy winners.

Our next event is on Sunday 30 June at the South Fremantle Football Club from 4pm to 7pm featuring our two Big Bands and Guitar Ensembles. Tickets are available at the door. Information is provided on page 4 of this newsletter.
